1. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 1-4 are indefinite in that claim 1 lacks a step of forming a mold with the desired radius of curvature, and the preamble recites such. Hence, the claim is submitted to be incomplete.

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 5-7 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by the admitted prior art as shown in instant Figures 1 and 2 and disclosed in the instant specification, page 6, line 22 through page 8, line 25.

Applicant admits that the instant process is taught in the prior art. It is submitted inherent in the electroplating operation that the plated material would pass through some minimum radius of curvature prior to achieving the desired curvature.

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 2-4 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the admitted prior art as shown in instant Figures 1 and 2 and disclosed in the instant specification, page 6, line 22 through page 8, line 25.

The admitted prior art discloses the basic claimed method as noted in paragraph 2, supra, such art lacking essentially the instant values for the diameter of the opening and radius of curvature. It is submitted that the exact values for these parameters would have been well within the skill level of the art and readily determined by one of ordinary skill dependent on the desired shape of the mold and lens to be molded therefrom.

4. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-9 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 14-43 of U.S. Patent No. 6,656,393.

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claims of previously issued US Patent –393 and those of the instant case set forth essentially similar subject matter concerned with forming a mold and a lens from that mold using electroplating methods. The exact numerical values for the openings and radius of curvatures would have been readily determined by one of ordinary skill in the art dependent on the desired size of the mold and lens made therefrom.
